RICHMOND, KENTUCKY

In Society

Miss Jennie Hare and Miss Obethier, of Hamilton College, Lexington, spent the weekend with Mrs. H. C. Jasper. On Friday she was hostess of a delightful Five Hundred party given in their honor.

On Wednesday last, Miss Roy Million entertained the Mary Fattie Club at her home on Tate's avenue. The programme was unusually interesting and out of the ordinary, being a study of Mexican music. Miss Million gave a lovely violin solo; Miss Elder contributed a piano solo; Miss Mary Traynor a beautiful song, and Mrs. Stott and Miss Bettie French read two papers on "The Aztecs and Their Music and the Opera Season in Mexico." The musicale concluded with a daintily prepared lunch.

Mrs. Chas. Jett gave a very delightful "spend the day" on Wednesday to Mrs. Chas. Conaway, of Torrington, Wyoming. The dining room and table were prettily decorated with dahlias and a choice menu was served. Covers were laid for twelve.

Mrs. E. B. Barnes entertained with a most enjoyable Rook Party on Thursday in compliment to Mrs. Joseph L. Taylor, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Lilly, on Lancaster avenue. The house was very attractive with roses and autumn leaves, and following the game an elegant lunch of creamed oysters, hot rolls, potato chips, cheese balls, celery and coffee were served.

Mrs. Joe Wagers was hostess of a most elaborate and beautiful dining on Thursday at 1 o'clock, covers being laid for the following guests: Mesdames C. F. Chenuit, Edgar Blanton, Roy White, T. T. Covington, Curt Park, C. L. Searcy, and Miss Elizabeth Searcy. The dining room was lovely with yellow flowers and foliage, the center of the table being in yellow and green. The menu, beautifully prepared, was served in eight courses.

Miss Elizabeth Chenuit, of Lexington, entertained with an elegant luncheon on Thursday in honor of the bride-elect, Miss Sarah Gibson Chenuit. The affair was one of the prettiest of the many entertainments that have been given in her honor. On Tuesday, the 27th, Miss Mary Sayre Williams also entertained for the charming bride with a beautiful reception.

Mrs. H. C. Jasper entertained a very charming house party from Lexington the latter part of the week for her son, Mr. Gaines Jasper.

Miss Jeanie Barron Hurst chaperoned the Cynthia Society of the Normal School on a delightful picnic excursion to Lake Reba, Monday.

Mrs. L. R. Blanton gave a most delightful Alhambra party Tuesday afternoon to her guests, the Misses White, of Danville. After the performance a lovely lunch was served at the home of the hostess on Third street.

Mrs. Alex Denny entertained the Nullo Club on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Breck avenue.

Miss Bessie Estelle Stone, the bright and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Stone, celebrated her eleventh birthday on last Thursday afternoon at her home on Fourth street. Delicious refreshments were served and about twenty-five little friends enjoyed the happy occasion.

The Young Ladies' Bridge Club met on Saturday afternoon with Miss Emma Watts and reorganized for the winter. Following the business session an hour was spent very pleasantly over the tea cups.

The second meeting of the Woman's Club was held at the Christian church on Monday afternoon. The attendance was good and a splendid programme was given by Miss Ann DeJaret, who gave a most interesting paper on "The Earliest Glimpse of Kentucky." Miss Lucia Burnam in a very charming manner told of her trip to Porto Rico; Miss Helen Bennett, the delegate from the Woman's Club to the State and National Federations, gave a graphic description of a visit to Louisville and Chicago, and the program closed with a finished and beautifully prepared paper on the American Drama, by Mrs. Wren Grinstead.

Miss Lettie Mae McRoberts was married last Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Christian church at Lancaster, to Mr. Richard Buckner Spindle, of Norfolk, Va. Preceding the ceremony a musical programme was rendered, one number of which was a Violin Obliga by Miss Lelia McKee, of Richmond. The programme was executed most delightfully. The bride party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, carrying pink Killarney roses. The bride carried a white satin prayer book which her mother used on her wedding day, from the leaves of which fell a shower of Valley Lillies. After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride. The decorations were pink roses, cosmos, chrysanthemums and southern smilax. Miss McRoberts is a very charming young woman and exceedingly popular, as was evidenced by the number of presents received from old and young alike. The happy couple left for an extended bridal tour, the itinerary of which was kept a secret.

Rally Day At The Methodist Church.

Shortly before going to press one of our good friends handed us an excellent report of the "Rally Day," but unfortunately our columns were so crowded that we could not find space for it.

The day was a most enjoyable and profitable one, the room being beautifully decorated for the occasion and the exercises of the hour interspersed with both vocal and instrumental music. The seating capacity of the Sunday-school department was taxed to its utmost. Sunday-school work in its various phases was discussed and a delightful as well as profitable time was had.
